The Public Welfare Foundation supports efforts to ensure fundamental rights and opportunities for people in need. They look for carefully defined points where their funds can make a difference in bringing about systemic changes that can improve lives. They focus on three program areas: Criminal and Juvenile Justice, Health Reform and Workers' Rights.

Applications are accepted throughout the year. Though letters of inquiry may be submitted at any time, applicants should plan ahead. Staff takes up to one month after receiving a letter of inquiry to determine whether an invitation will be sent to submit a full proposal. Applicants should submit letters of inquiry at least six to eight weeks before proposal deadlines.
