

Ventura Foods, LLC Voluntarily Recalls Seven Varieties of Its Dean's® Dip Products As A Precautionary Measure

Wed, 10 Mar 2010 16:46:00 -0600

Ventura Foods, LLC is voluntarily recalling seven of its Dean's® Dip products, with specific production dates, because a flavor enhancer may be contaminated with salmonella. The flavor enhancer is made by an ingredient supplier, Basic Food Flavors, Inc., in Las Vegas. This is the same ingredient linked to the Food & Drug Administration's recall announcement Thursday.

- Company: Ventura Foods, LLC (Brea, CA)
- Products: Seven Dean's Dip products. See recall notice for specific products and "Sell by" dates.
- Why: Possible Salmonella contamination
- Illnesses reported: None
- For more information: Call (800) 339-1957 or visit MailScanner has detected a possible fraud attempt from "links.govdelivery.com" claiming to be www.deansdip.com